Overview

Rose Community Foundation is pleased to announce an open funding opportunity for nonprofit organizations in the Greater Denver region. This grant cycle is intended to support Greater Denver's diverse and dynamic ecosystem of organizations that leverage policy and advocacy efforts to help local communities furthest from opportunity create conditions for equity, justice, inclusion and engagement. The Foundation is especially interested in supporting organizations working to close gaps in access, opportunity and power by cultivating systems change or influencing the levers of policy.

We seek to fund a diverse slate of organizations engaging in equity-focused policy and advocacy work. Applicants may work at the state level, the local level or both and may pursue short- or long-term policy objectives. We aim to support policy efforts across a range of issues, representing a broad spectrum of approaches, perspectives, and populations served. Many grant recipients will be primarily policy-focused organizations, but we are open to applications from organizations delivering direct services or programming requesting funding for a specific advocacy component of their work (though proposals centered around non-policy work will not be considered). Activities that support or oppose specific candidates or political parties will not be considered.

Examples of work we intend to fund through this opportunity include, but are not limited to, organizations engaging in:

- Advocacy – including lobbying – for specific statewide, municipal or district policy efforts that close systemic gaps and grow financial, social, political or cultural capital for those furthest from opportunity.
- Advocacy on behalf of communities that are furthest from opportunity that lift up impacted community voices to advance state or local policy priorities.
- Research that informs state or local policy actions/recommendations or strengthens policy campaigns that are related to the goals of this RFP.
- Impactful advocacy coalitions that are collaboratively working toward shared state or local policy objectives.
- Implementation of recently passed policies that Rose Community Foundation has endorsed.

Though we understand applicants may not yet have a fully detailed sense of their specific policy objectives for the grant period, proposals should articulate a clear organizational point of view, approach, process and set of goals around cultivating systems change or influencing the levers of policy.

While the Foundation appreciates the importance and value of local organizations focused on general civic engagement or community strengthening efforts without an emphasis on directly impacting policies or systems, that is not the focus of this grant opportunity.

Eligibility

- This opportunity is open to nonprofit organizations – 501(c)(3)s and 501(c)(4)s – or fiscally sponsored projects serving the seven-county Greater Denver region (Adams, Arapahoe, Boulder, Broomfield, Denver, Douglas and Jefferson counties) or advancing statewide policy efforts that benefit those within that catchment area.

- Local/municipal, state and federal government agencies are not eligible for this opportunity.
- Organizations funded through donor-advised funds or giving circles at Rose Community Foundation are eligible for this opportunity, if other eligibility requirements are met.
- Organizations that house endowments at Rose Community Foundation are eligible to apply, but like all other applicants, are not guaranteed a grant award.
- Organizations that have received a separate grant from Rose Community Foundation in 2024 are unlikely to receive funding via this opportunity. We encourage organizations that think they may still be eligible to meet with Ray Barrie-Kivel, policy and advocacy manager, before beginning their application.
- Organizations that have active multi-year grants from Rose Community Foundation are not eligible for this opportunity.
- Rose Community Foundation has multiple open RFPs every year, and we encourage organizations that think they could be a fit for more than one opportunity to speak with a member of our grantmaking team before beginning their application.

For questions about whether you currently have funding through Rose Community Foundation and how it affects your eligibility, please contact Chen-Pin Hu (she/her), grants coordinator, and Ray Barrie-Kivel (he/him), policy and advocacy manager.

Rose Community Foundation will only fund organizations that do not discriminate on the basis of race, ethnicity, disability, color, creed, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, pregnancy (including childbirth and related medical conditions), national origin, ancestry, citizenship, military status, marital status, familial or caregiver status, or any other classification protected by applicable federal, state, or local law. Given the Foundation's Jewish roots and longstanding commitment to supporting the local Jewish community, we will not fund organizations that promote antisemitism, anti-Jewish misinformation, or hate/harm in any form against any community.

We are interested in seeing proposals that:

- Specify the problems and/or opportunities the organization seeks to address, as well as the specific policy changes required.
- Center and elevate impacted community voices.
- Are informed by diverse perspectives and experiences with communities that the organization serves engaged in leadership, program design and implementation.
- Provide a plan and activities to be accomplished in the grant period.
- Articulate what success would look like as a result of the activities outlined.
- Commit to advancing equity across gender, gender identity, race, sexual orientation, income, ability, age and/or geography.

What else do we consider when making funding decisions?

- The extent to which executive leadership, board and staff are representative of the communities the organization serves.
- How community engagement and participation inform the organization's work.
- The organization's recent history of impact and success leveraging policy and advocacy to advance equity, justice, inclusion and engagement.
- Whether the proposed work benefits diverse communities beyond the interests of a specific industry or group of members.
- Financial picture of the organization.

Our available grant dollars are limited, and we will consider whether an organization already has open funding from Rose Community Foundation in an effort to reach new-to-us organizations, communities, and types of work or projects that are not eligible for funding via other Rose Community Foundation grant cycles.

How much funding and what type of funding is available?

Total funding available: $1.8 million. We anticipate making between 30-45 grants and expect this to be a highly competitive process.

Grant duration: Most grant lengths will be one year. Organizations leading important multi-year policy efforts that demonstrate an especially high level of impact may be considered for two- or three-year grants.

Funding amounts will typically range from $15,000 to $75,000, with amounts determined based on alignment with the grant cycle objectives and a clear organizational point of view, approach, process and set of goals around cultivating systems change or influencing the levers of policy. Grant amounts will be awarded based primarily on the strength of an organization's policy and advocacy work, rather than the work of the organization as a whole.

- Due to the quality and quantity of proposals received for this opportunity each year, few applicants receive grants at or near the high-end of the funding range. In 2023, 53 percent of applicants received a grant, and the average one-year grant amount was $47,000.

Types of support

1. General Operating Support. To provide maximum flexibility for nonprofit organizations engaging in policy and advocacy work, we anticipate that most grants will be for general operating support.
2. Program or Project Support. Organizations that have a primary organizational focus that does not include policy and advocacy should apply for policy-specific program funding. Non-policy work will not be considered through this grant opportunity.
 - Organizations that do national or multi-state work should apply for program funding and specify that grant dollars would be used exclusively for local activities or statewide efforts that benefit our region.
 - Organizations applying on behalf of a coalition are required to apply for program funding.
 - 501(c)(4) organizations are required to apply for program funding to distinguish from candidate or partisan work, which the Foundation cannot fund.
 - Any grant applicants may opt to have funding structured as program support if that is preferred.
 - Please note: Organizations that receive program or project support will be required to report direct and grassroots lobbying expenses, as applicable.

What are reporting and grantee expectations?

Organizations receiving grant funds will be asked to submit a short narrative report of outcomes in the online grants portal. The deadline for that final report will be specified within grant contracts.

Organizations receiving program or project support will also be asked to submit financial reporting on the grant funds.

Because Rose Community Foundation relies on its grantee partners to inform its own policy positions, organizations receiving grant funds are requested to connect with Foundation staff as policy priorities are established, but no interim grant reports are required. Receiving funding through this grant cycle does not constitute the Foundation endorsing an organization's specific policy positions, but rather reflects the importance of their advocacy perspective and voice on priority issues.
