How would you use $50,000 and your Jewish values to make our community better?

Rose Community Foundation (RCF) seeks a diverse group of Jewish and interfaith-Jewish high school students in 10th through 12th grades who want to make a difference in our community by learning about philanthropy and becoming teen grantmakers.

We are looking for teens who are not involved Jewishly and those who are; those who are involved in community service and those who are not; those who are athletes and those who are mathletes.

Rose Youth Foundation (RYF) is a youth-led program. Each year, members decide how they want to use their Jewish values and the tools of strategic philanthropy to make a difference in our community. Members identify community issues, determine funding priorities, and meet with leaders from nonprofit organizations in order to decide how to grant a total of $50,000. Since its inception in 2001, Rose Youth Foundation has granted more than $1,000,000 to the Greater Denver Community.

Application and Selection

Each year, more teens apply to participate in Rose Youth Foundation than we are able to accept. As a result, the Foundation is not able to accept all of the qualified and interested students who apply. The selection committee, comprised of Rose Community Foundation staff, community members, and RYF alumni, strive to create a balanced group with representation from different schools and grades. Members are selected primarily for their demographic, personal, and Jewish diversity. An applicant's ability to demonstrate and articulate their character and perspective, as well as their ability to significantly benefit from and contribute to the group process is also taken into strong consideration when making selection decisions.

Siblings will not be accepted to serve as members of Rose Youth Foundation concurrently.

The application deadline is Thursday, April 30 at 5:00 p.m.

All applicants will be notified of selection decisions by June 1, 2026.
